To Whom It May Concern:

Re: Microsoft Software Asset Management and Compliance (SAM-C)

FSLogix demonstrated FSLogix Apps to the SAM Licensing Subject Matter Expert in the Microsoft SAM-C group on May 11, 2017.

It is important to note that Microsoft does not endorse any third-party SAM-C products publicly.

However, FSLogix has been informed via a non-forwardable email from SAM-C that FSLogix Apps has the adequate controls to demonstrate the effective management of applications hosted in virtual/RDS based environments.

In all environments, it is important for the administrator(s) of FSLogix Apps to know that they are 100% responsible for ensuring that the controls are fully enabled and implemented for them to remain in a compliant state with the Microsoft Product Terms.

Should you or your customer have any questions regarding this matter, please reach out to your FSLogix Sales Representative or your Microsoft SAM-C contact.

Sincerely,
